Construction is advancing and nearing completion on the highly anticipated luxury gay condominium hotel, Random Haus Palm Springs.

Palm Springs, CA, November 27, 2012 (PressReleasePoint) -- Construction is advancing and nearing completion on the highly anticipated luxury gay condominium hotel, Random Haus Palm Springs.

Over the past few weeks, the PR and marketing has been in high-gear, with promotional events such as the sneak-peek event in October and an informational booth at the Palm Springs Pride festival in early November.

In early January 2013, a hotel tour event is being planned, along with a Palm Springs Chamber of Commerce ribbon cutting ceremony event. A grand opening gala is being scheduled for mid-January.

"We have been working very hard to shoot for our original goal of being open and operational by early January," said Project Manager Lance Robutz. "The construction is nearly complete" at this point, it's all in the details."

The property will boast 12 ultra-luxury condominiums in an amazing location that is just a short walk to downtown Palm Springs. The condos will range from approximately 1100 to over 2100 square feet with two- and three- bedroom, two- and three-bath units available. This all-suite, condominium hotel property will offer the largest and grandest accommodations for the LGBT traveler in the Valley.

Each condominium will be furnished with stainless steel appliances, wine coolers, spa-inspired bathrooms with "looking glass" showers, and entertainment centers with flat screen televisions in the living rooms and bedrooms.

The property will feature a sparkling courtyard pool, barbecue grills, balconies or patios for each condo, a community garden with fire pit, and full-time housekeeping and concierge.
